Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 05 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy in the west with showers. Drier in the east.

Today:
A bright and dry start in the east with sunny spells throughout the day. Cloudier conditions in the west with showers, perhaps turning into longer spells of rain, during the afternoon. Feeling pleasant in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
Outbreaks of rain will continue to affect western areas this evening, staying dry for a time in the east. Overnight, rain will move northeastwards affecting most areas by dawn. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Sunday:
A rather cloudy day with showers and perhaps longer spells of rain. Showers could turn heavy at times, gradually easing by the evening. Feeling less warm. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Largely dry on Monday and Tuesday with sunny spells. Low cloud may affect southern coasts on Monday. Risk of further outbreaks of rain on Wednesday. Warm in the sunshine.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.